

VPro CE Installation

- 1. Dock your iPAQ. If you haven't yet setup your iPAQ, now is the time to do it. Once the iPAQ has been setup, ensure that it synchronizes properly with your desktop computer.
- 2. Install VPro CE from your desktop computer. Create a temporary directory on your desktop computer and copy the zipped installation file into this directory. Unzip the file, locate and double-click setup.exe.
- 3. Get a cup of coffee. This phase of the installation could take awhile because the species lists need to be downloaded one record at a time to the iPAQ.
- 4. Where the heck did it get installed! During installation the program informs you where the runtime files for Visual CE (support files for VPro CE) were being installed but not where the database for VPro CE was installed. Relax, you can find it at C:\Program Files\VProCE.
- 5. You're done. That wasn't bad. Now take the rest of the day off (tell your boss the installation was a nightmare) and go fishing.
